WRIGHT GOES ALL WRONG.

John C. Lynch's Chief Clerk Also Shy of Funds.

Internal Revenue Defaulter is to be Apprehended.

Money-order Treaty Negotiated With Hungarians.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Instructions were sent today from Washington to San Francisco for the apprehension of George A. Wright, defaulting chief clerk of the Internal Revenue office, whose short-coming was discovered last Monday, and whose dismissal was ordered the same day. Internal Revenue Collector Lynch reported the discovery to the Treasury Department, stating that Wright had compromised a case in his office whereby he received some hundreds of dollars, which he kept, and that the Treasury is therefore protected, but in accordance with the rigorous custom of that department, Wright will be prosecuted just as vigorously as though the money had never been refunded. As a result of the telegraphic exchange, acting Secretary Taylor today instructed Collector Lynch to turn the matter over to United States District Attorney Woodworth, with the understanding that that officer secure the immediate arrest of Wright. It is understood here that Wright has not attempted to escape, but if he has secret service agents will be put on his track and he cannot hope long to evade capture.

BIRTHDAY OF THE MIKADO.

Event is Celebrated Throughout All Japan.

Emperor Reviews Troops and Receives Diplomats.

Japs at the World's Fair Also Have a Big Time.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

TOKYO, Nov. 3.—[By Asiatic Cable.] Japan is enjoying a holiday today in honor of the Emperor's birthday. Ordinarily, the people idolize their sovereign, but the war seems to have increased their affection. The celebration was observed throughout the empire. The streets were decorated and patriotic airs were played. At Tokio the Emperor reviewed the fleet and the Imperial Guard Division and gave a luncheon at the palace for the higher officials and foreign diplomats.

The military review was held at Aoyama Field, where the troops began arriving early this morning. The Emperor rode through the city in a handsome red stage coach. Leaving the palace shortly after 8 o'clock he reached the field at 9 and alighted from his carriage and mounted a black charger. He was accompanied by a numerous staff, which included the Crown Prince and Lieut.-Gen. Sir William Nicholson, director-general of military intelligence of the British War Office, attached to the Japanese army during the war.

The Emperor rode around the field. Only a small portion of the troops assembled marched past; the remainder held their positions in an irregular square. The troops which marched past included three regiments of infantry, six field guns and a regiment of cavalry, totaling 3000 troops. They wore the field uniform of the Imperial Japanese army.

After the review the crowd broke into the field and the Emperor and Crown Prince made an ovation.

MIKADO MAKES SPEECH.

Upon the occasion of his birthday, at luncheon today, the Emperor briefly addressed his guests, extending welcome to the foreign diplomatic corps and ministers of state. During the course of his remarks he said: "We regret that the time has not come to see peace restored in the Far East. In realization of our desire, we have proposed the health of the sovereigns and rulers represented at this court and expressed the wish that the bonds of friendship existing between their respective countries might be drawn closer."

Baron d'Aethan, the Belgian minister, dean of the diplomatic corps, responded, congratulating the Emperor on his birthday and expressing regret at the continuance of the war. Continuing, Baron d'Aethan said:

"We again express our wishes for peace and do so with more fervor when we contemplate with profound emotion the Emperor already caused to suffer in his families and the thousands of noble victims on either side in the armies in the field, and the suffering and bloodshed with a bravery that rises to the height of a sublime and indomitable heroism."

ST. LOUIS CELEBRATION.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 3.—On the occasion of the celebration today of Japan day at the exposition, the following program was set to honor Katsura, Minister of the Interior:

The entire colony of Japanese subjects here in St. Louis assembled today in the Japanese pavilion, respectfully congratulating His Majesty the Emperor of Japan, on his thirty-third birthday.

"SEIJI TEIGMA.

Representing the Japanese in St. Louis.

Opening the celebration more than 400 Japanese, including residents of St. Louis and those connected with the exposition, gathered in the national pavilion, and there observed the Mikado's birthday. There were speeches and songs in Japanese. Mr. Teigma, head of the Japanese Imperial Commission, was the principal speaker, said, in part:

"Owing to the progress and prosperity of Japan, the Emperor, who is the reason to applaud the virtues of His Majesty on this, his thirty-third birthday."

"To fulfill our obligations as his subjects is to exult in the field of duty in furthering the advancement of the empire in the commercial or industrial way. While our brothers are nobly and willingly sacrificing their lives for the cause of the Emperor, fate has decreed that we, here in this foreign land, illustrate to the world the progress of Japan, and at the same time acquire for ourselves the very best which western civilization has to offer. By so doing we are expressing our appreciation of our Emperor's grace."

"That we are able surrounded by the influence of peace and far from the tumult of war, to celebrate this eventful day, is a gift which he highly prize. We join voices in the prayer to God that the Emperor's reign may be long and peaceful, both in this and in the life to come."

Following a luncheon served in the Imperial garden, the Japanese commission entertained at a garden party 100 guests, most of them members of World's Fair, State, and foreign commissions. The feature of the entertainment, which was strictly Japanese, was the presentation of Japanese chrysanthemums. Fireworks, or fire flowers, as the Japanese call them, were liberally displayed.

THE GREAT WAR.

munition. The news came in whips that a general assault along the whole line would take place between midnight and 3 o'clock in the morning.

For hours after, the ominous darkness and silence was broken by an occasional shell from the Japanese batteries, while the Russians burst many starlight flares over Shushan village, where they made a feint to sortie immediately after a furious fusillade in the rear of the captured forts.

Here, the Russians anticipating an assault, made a strong counter-attack. The Japanese advance lines were driven from the forts and were furiously attacked by large bodies of Russians, who also worked down on either side of the captured Benjamun forts in the valley in an attempt to cut off the retreat of the Japanese from the two forts.

The Russian move was cleverly planned and the artillery commanders were well informed, for they opened fire with shrapnel on the advance of the Japanese supports across the valley under starlight and searchlight, with good effect in the counter-attack on the Japanese forces.

The general assault then began, and for twenty minutes the whole Japanese line was engaged. The left division, from the trenches in front of the Benjamun forts, charged the fortified hills. Part of the advance had gained the crests and shouted "banat!" when their triumph was short.

Suddenly, two powerful searchlights of the east forts lighted up the Japanese lines, and Russian rifles and machine guns poured a deadly hail into the clearly visible ranks of the attacking troops.

STURBORNLY HOLD ON.

Despite the awful process of unequal annihilation, the Japanese stubbornly held the position and their machine guns quickly located and quieted the Russian quick-firers. Finally, the Japanese were able to force down the slopes to the trenches below.

On the west flank, the searchlights lit up the Russian trenches, preventing the movement of troops. The Japanese artillerymen concentrated their fire on the searchlights, shells continually blinding the lights. Suddenly, the light of the fort disappeared and the light of Takpanow fort followed.

The Japanese artillery on the right flank advanced on the right flank of the Russian line, when the Russian machine guns, previously well placed, opened fire and the Russian line was driven back with continual rattle.

As the Japanese machine guns came into action, the Russian line was driven back with continual rattle. The Russian machine guns, previously well placed, opened fire and the Russian line was driven back with continual rattle.

DRIVEN BACK UP SLOPES.

Though the Japanese were driven back up the slopes, the Russian line was driven back with continual rattle. The Russian machine guns, previously well placed, opened fire and the Russian line was driven back with continual rattle.

WONDERFUL SIGHT.

The rattle of machinery and the thunder of the Russian guns, the pattering of the machine guns, the bursting of the starlight flares and the flashing of searchlights along the whole line was a wonderfully impressive sight.

The fight lasted continuously for an hour. At last, when the outflanking was complete, the Russian line was driven back up the slopes, followed by the Japanese. The Russian line was driven back up the slopes, followed by the Japanese.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 4, 1:30 a.m. (After Midnight.) Negotiations regarding the North Sea Court of Inquiry have not yet been concluded. The American position is as follows:

The terms of the draft of the treaty for the constitution of the court are under consideration. The Emperor, who may desire some modifications, in which case amendments of the draft to London will, of course, be necessary, but the amendments if any, are not expected to be of importance. One of the points already agreed upon is that Great Britain and Russia will jointly propose that France and the United States appoint a high naval officer as a member of the court, which probably will be the Emperor's wish.

The four officers of the Russian Baltic squadron who, it was originally arranged, were to remain in Paris until the arrival of Admiral Kasanoff, before coming to St. Petersburg, to present the report of Vice-Admiral Rozhkovsky to the Emperor.
